Defining Problems & Providing Solutions

Lyle Benjamin, Founder's Note

Thank you for taking the time out of your busy day to read this.

But before you begin, I'm going to ask you a favor. Please read this to the end. It will take you about 5-10 minutes to go through it quickly if you don't spend too much time reading the Program Guides in depth. You can always do that later.

It's important that you do this because even if you don't think there is anything relevant to you — you might know someone that you can refer who goes on to make a truly significant impact on other people's Quality of Life through our programs. And that's a big deal.

So please read it through and then share it with others — both directly (emails, direct messages) and through your social media platforms (Linkedin, Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, etc).

One more thing, I'd love to get your feedback on anything I write or speak about. I'm always looking to improve, develop new relationships and friendships, and work with others to help them achieve their objectives through collaborations.

This is Part I of an on-going series of individual and corporate social responsibility solutions to tipping point and social, environmental, economic and health inequalities that impact people and the planet on a local to global scale.

As a Social Responsibility Entrepreneur, I spent the past decade developing the systems and programs we need to push back on the global issues that threaten the Quality of Life for kids, people and the planet.

Twice a month I'll release information on action-based programs and initiatives that individuals, influencers and institutions can implement to create Behavioral Transformation Solutions (BTS) needed to provide Quality of Life.

If you have connections with Businesses, Government, Schools, Faith-Based and Non-Profit Organizations — please play it forward and pass it on. Or contact us with referrals. Either way, it's greatly appreciated!

— Lyle Benjamin

P.S. Yes, I can count. That was three favors. But they were small. It's not like I asked you to donate a million dollars to help fund our youth programs. Yet.

HOW KINDNESS & CIVILITY CAN TURN BACK THE TIPPING POINTS & SAVE THE HUMAN RACE FROM SELF-DESTRUCTION

LYLE BENJAMIN
Activist, Entrepreneur, Speaker

Lyle Benjamin has been on a journey to repay others for the kindness he received while working in New York City at the age of 11. Ten years later he was in law school interning with the New York State Attorney General's Office in the Litigation Bureau writing Memorandums of Law on Public Health and other issues. But Benjamin concluded that the profession would force him to act like a hired gun, so he decided to help others by going in a different direction.

Following his undergraduate interests in writing, Benjamin went into the marketing, design and printing field. Shortly thereafter, he became the only person ever to have published a national newsstand magazine and a best-selling board game at the same time. Both the magazine and the game dealt with helping improve people's quality of life by improving their relationships.

In 2019, Benjamin created the 501(c)3 educational not-for-profit Planned Acts of Kindness with the objective of providing Quality of Life for everyone by developing a more unified world by gamifying Karma and instilling a greater sense of civility, social responsibility, volunteerism and global citizenship in people.

In 2021, Benjamin launched One Planet One People first as an environment platform, and then as an umbrella movement fully aligned with all 17 Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations to unite people and institutions around the globe on tipping point and quality of life issues that require immediate global action.

Both organizations have earned the praises of schools, faith-based organizations, non-profits, government agencies and businesses including Google, the Peace Corps, Simon Property Group, and Jack Canfield, Best-Selling author of Chicken Soup for the Soul and The Success Principles.

Benjamin is the author of several non-fiction personal development books including ONE: The Fight For Survival Of The Human Race; 16 Things We All Can Do To Act Right & Help Save The Planet; The Working Dead: The Essential Survival Guide on How to Protect, Save & Invest for yourself, Your Family & Your Future; and Legacy Lifelines: Memorial Edition: Creating Legacies for Lost Loved Ones. Benjamin's goal is to collaborate with organizations and governments around the world to give a free memorial book to every family that lost a loved one due to COVID-19 to help with them with the healing process.
